Basil Garibaldi

Basil Garibaldi has a medium plant size and a strong branch structure producing many side shoots for better yield and is slow to bolt. The leaves are very thick and dark green in colour, medium sized, oval convex shape. Garibaldi has excellent shelf life with a particularly intense flavour. Due to the very little lemon taste, it is preferred by the Italian pesto producers. Garibaldi can be produced for cut leaves for the fresh and processing market. Garibaldi has IR to Peronospora Belbahrii and Fusarium.
